

6.5.2

1. Academic review through IQAC periodical meetings

The IQAC meetings examine the college's teaching and learning processes, as well as its operational methodologies.

The newly CAS promoted staff members as a professor are virtually felicitated and congratulated.

IQAC launched Dayanand Webinar Series and set up guidelines regarding organization of online workshops, seminars, conferences to the various departments of the institute.

With due considerations of Government decisions on Covid pandemic and nationwide lockdown, the committee discussed on online classes and offline practical sessions of UG and PG classes.

The committee has suggested to organize the Parent Teacher meets and departmental alumni meet in online mode to extend reach to the stakeholders in pandemic situation.

To record the educational videos of the teachers the college has established 'Dayanand Audio Visual facility'. It is decided to conduct the workshop for few teachers under the head train the trainer in offline mode who will further train their colleagues.

Installation of the departmental prizes to the meritorious students, economically poor students for each subject with the help of faculty, alumni, supporting staff, stakeholders, etc.

To renovate the ground and to make a grass pitch for cricket and creation of pits for long jump, high jump, lawn on various parts of the ground.

Collection of feedback from various stakeholderson curriculum and student satisfaction survey.

IQAC has taken review of university as well as college affiliated skill development courses. The committee has appreciated the work done by the Mahatma Anand Swami Skill Development centre.

IQAC has suggested to encourage teachers and students to register for various SWAYAM courses.

It has been suggested to the department concerned to allot the research projects to the final year UG and PG students in Vth semester (UG) and IInd semester (PG).

The review of remedial coaching was taken and also suggested to strengthen this activity for the next academic year.

Dayanand e-Diary has been modified and relaunched to update teachers online lecture/practical data and other related work information.

2. Organization of conferences/workshops/seminars

Advanced and up-to-date knowledge is gathered through contacts with specialists for an effective teaching learning process. Due to Covid pandemic in presence conferences organization was not allowed by government regulations. In spite of that the new learning opportunity has been worked out by organizing online conferences/workshops/seminars under the title 'Dayanand Webinar Series'. In all fifty-seven online webinars were organized in 2020-21 with various themes covering curriculum related topics, examination reforms, syllabus reforms, and new developments. For all the webinars experts from their respective subject were invited in online mode. Few of them are given below:

- The NET-SET preparation workshops for three days, Reading habits for competitive examinations, leadership programs were organized by PG departments.
- Various webinars related to Covid-19 awareness, emerging social issues, challenges and solutions, improving immunity, etc. organized for students and all stake holders.

- For teaching and non-teaching staff different programs like faculty development programs, learning to tech online, IPR, Shikshak: KalasangatShilpkar, New Education Policy (NEP), virtual lab, work ethics were organized.
- The webinars on Nutrition for her, empowering the women were also organized.
- The programs like Union budget, personal finance, financial literacy were arranged to inculcate financial literacy and security among all.
